- 1) Think for a moment about your reputation. How do others see you? Are you an example of an upright leader in Christian ministry and in society in general?
- 2) Figureheads lead by example more than by authority. As a figurehead for your ministry, how are you influencing those within it?
- 3) Think into the future. When your name comes up, what do you want people to say they remember about you? Write down some words or phrases you'd like to have associated with your name:

- 4) Is what you are currently doing going to result in your list above? Now is the time to make the changes that will create the history you want to achieve.
- 5) As a leader, what will matter in the end is the influence your leadership had on others and what they were able to accomplish because of it. What steps can you take to help others around you succeed?
