

Christian Leadership Reflections

Personal Reflection Guide

REFORMATION: WHEN OTHERS WANT YOU TO REFORM

https://www.cccc.org/news_blogs/john/2017/10/30/reformation-when-others-want-you-to-reform

- 1) What is your gut reaction to the word "reform" as it relates to changes proposed for the Evangelical church?
 - a) If it is positive, what reforms do you look forward to? Is there anything to be cautious or careful about in them?
 - b) If it is negative, what are you concerned about? What process would allow you to explore reform ideas while addressing your concerns?
- 2) The post listed some of the calls for reform. List those and any others you are aware of, including your own suggestions. Pick one that you think is important and has potential. Could you informally start a discussion group in your local area or with your ministry peers to see what might be done about it? Get some discussion going!
- 3) Select one proposed reform you completely disagree with. Read their supporting arguments to understand their position and pray for discernment to find at least one positive nugget of reform in it. What could you do to help the Evangelical church adopt it?