- 1) Conduct a review of your ministry to determine its level of institutionalism, if any. Look for evidences such as form taking precedence over substance or any sign that the mission might be being displaced by the organization itself. Pay particular attention to anything that might be considered a 'sacred cow.'
    - a) If you do find evidence of institutionalism, meet with your leadership team to discuss and address it.
    - b) If not, have a conversation with your leadership team about potential risk areas for your ministry and plan now for prevention.
