

CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP REFLECTIONS

PERSONAL REFLECTION GUIDE

---

How to Stay Inspired When You're Only Halfway up the Mountain

https://www.cccc.org/news\_blogs/john/2012/06/10/how-to-stay-inspired-when-youre-only-halfway-up-the-mountain/

Reflection Questions

1. Do you often feel overwhelmed by the magnitude of your mission? Have you ever felt disheartened to the point of almost giving up? How did you regain your positive spirit?
2. Being continuously focused on what is left to be done can cause us to miss out on the good things all around us. What practices can you implement to keep yourself aware of the positive parts of life?
3. How might your view of your ministry be altered by the thought that though the destination provides direction, life exists in the journey itself?
4. Knowing you may never see your mission fulfilled in your lifetime, how can you maintain passion and support from staff, volunteers, and donors for the contribution that you can make towards mission fulfillment?
5. What feelings are evoked when you think of shifting your focus from the big picture to helping one person at a time? How can your ministry promote its vision for world-changing long-term results while not losing sight of the positive results you are seeing in one life at a time?
6. As a ministry leader, you are constantly caring for others. How do you (or could you) care for yourself?

You may also be interested in the posts A Passion for Your Mission and Partnering With God.